

 LOCATION

Dingmans Creek, PA 18328

 SPECS

5 acres

 DISTANCE FROM NYC

70 miles

 CATEGORIES

Barns, Cabin, Cottage

 TAGS

Barn, Bathroom, Bedroom, Craftsman Mission, Deck, Distressed Patina, Exposed Beam, Fireplace, Hammock, Living Room, River Stream, Rustic, Stone Wall, Tennis Court, Terrace Patio, Traditional, Woods

Notes

Prefers print, film possible,

Perched on five acres, beside crystal clear Dingmans Creek, the turn-of-the century Retreat is a cozy and tranquil hideaway. Built in 1906 by Pennsylvania governor William Sproul, both the main house and the cottage proudly showcase the Arts & Crafts movement, their construction highlighted by Colonial mason techniques and local materials. Colonial style elements, including the architectural keystone above the windows and doors.

End of file consists of a barn that is 5 mins. down the road that may be used

Stone exterior, fireplace, pond, woodlands, wood ceilings, wood beamed ceiling, chandelier, outside eating area, studio, shed, tennis court

Restrictions:

All floors must be protected, booties must be worn over shoes

Areas of use determined in advance

