Notes

Film friendly

This Cape Code style house in the canal area of Long Beach, N.Y. was built in 1924. It has Cedar Shake Shingles that have acquired a unique patina from being up for over 25+ years. The deck in the yard is built out of rough-cut wood and looks like an old-time barn style deck. The two-car garage was built out of cindarblock and plywood. The structure of the house is original and has not been changed since it was built.

Small backyard with fence
