Beautiful house designed by the Architect Marcel Breuer in 1949, midcentury modern design with a distinctive butterfly roofline.

The living room has expansive glass windows facing into a private patio and woods, flagstone floor and unique (working) stone fireplace that extends into the outside rear of the house. The living room is flooded with light in the morning hours. The house is fully furnished with midcentury modern furniture, most of it vintage, including pieces by Eames, Nelson, Nougouchi, Saarinen, Juhl, Ponte, Risom, Breuer, and Aalto.

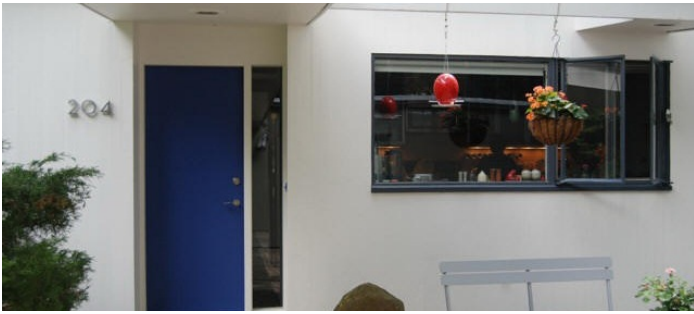

There are 3 bedrooms, all with wall-to-wall windows, 1 1/2 baths, kitchen (renovated, stainless steel), den, office and artist's studio (converted garage). An open breezeway connects the garage to the house
