Notes

1920's Hollywood Mediterranean in the exclusive Hightower Elevator Association. The home is accessible via keyed elevator or 70+ stairs. Incredible views over Hollywood. Home is a restored jewel box dating to the silent film era, with wood floors, stucco walls, exposed beams, restored kitchen and baths and period lighting. Across the street from a notable Lloyd Wright home and adjacent to the Carl Kay-designed homes featured in the Long Goodbye, among others. Designed by AD100 firm ASH NYC.

Restrictions:

No nailing or painting of walls.

Prefer no shoes worn inside.
