Notes

This Williamsburg loft has light wood floors, dark wood ceilings, and white painted brick, clean lines, high ceilings, lots of natural light, built in shelves, and more.

This 4,800 square-foot architect-designed Brooklyn loft in a turn-of-the-century brick manufacturing building combines a well-appointed open, airy residence with an active sculptor's studio.

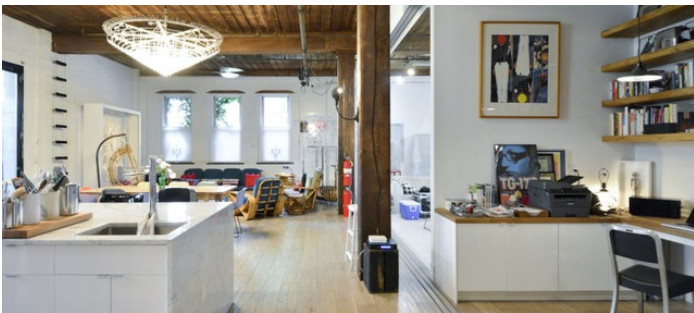

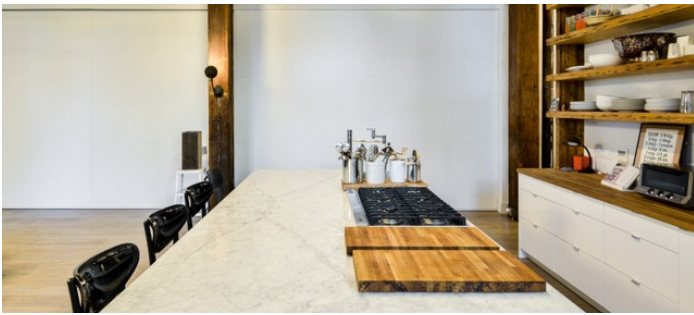

Co-op fees may apply for all shoots; separate fees apply for shooting ground floor space (office, art studio, garage).

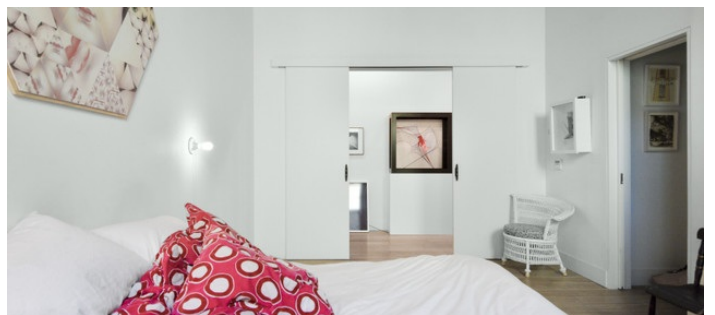

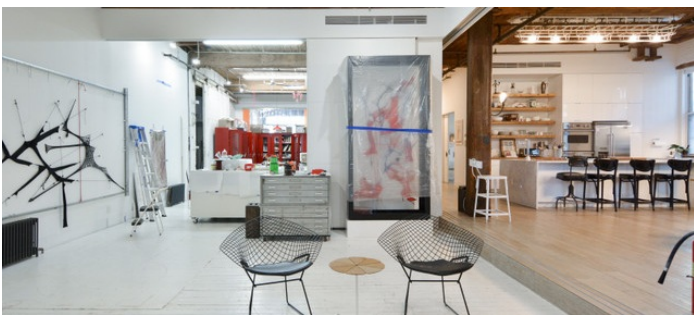

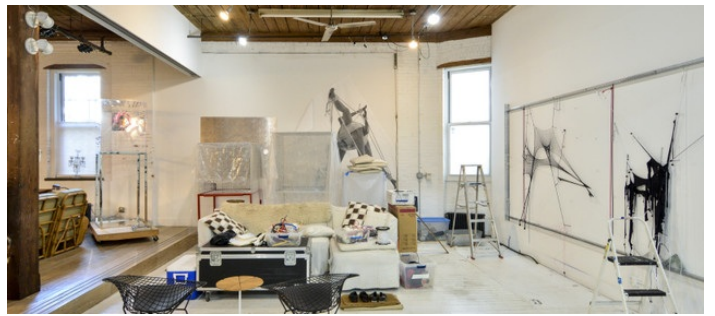

Restrictions:

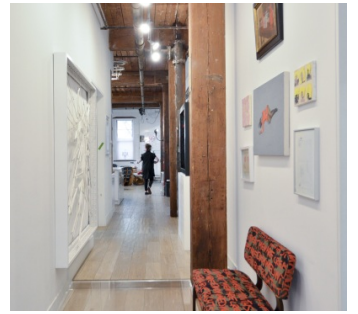

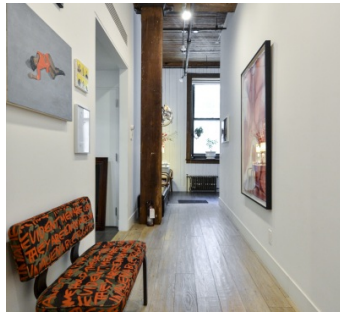

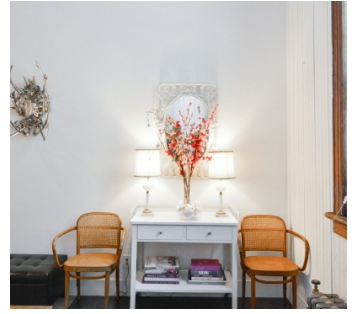

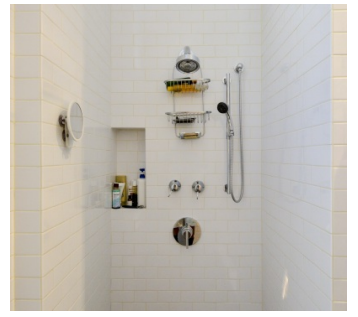

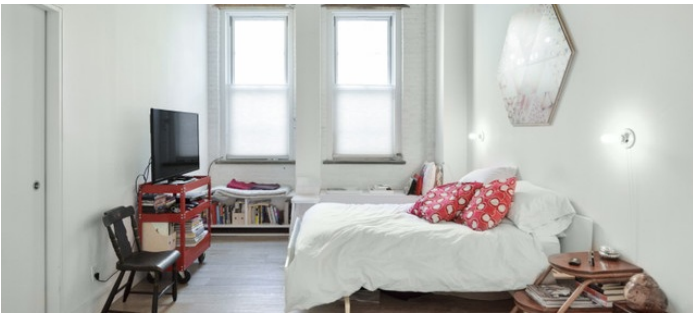

All floors must be protected with layout board, booties must be worn over shoes

Areas of use determined in advance, etc
