Notes

Note: owner moving in; more interior pictures with furniture coming soon!

All-brick Georgian Colonial Mansion and farm built in 1940 to look like Tara from Gone with the Wind. Overlooking Chesapeake Bay and located on 74 acres of green pastures, rolling hills, woods and includes extensive brick barns and stables.

The salons of the main house are richly decorated in Scalamandre wallcoverings and drapes. There are 13 fireplaces in the main house, one fireplace in the guest house, and one very large walk-in fireplace in the cookhouse. There is a large Belle Epoque style bar and lounge in the lower level of the mansion. The bathrooms are original/period.

Plenty of space for parking cars, staging catering, etc.

Restrictions:

No nailing into or painting of walls.
