Notes

This mid-century modern house built in 1940 by Edward Steichen (world renowned photographer) is sitting on 13 acres and looks over a 5 acres pond.

Glass, steel wood and stone are the materials used in this house. The house itself is about 2500 square feet with a spectacular living room with working fireplace. Lots of natural light everywhere.

There is a detached garage 300 yards away from the house. The garage is a shooting space with gray walls and floor for photography. It's next to Topstone Park where there is a small beach on the lake.

Restrictions:

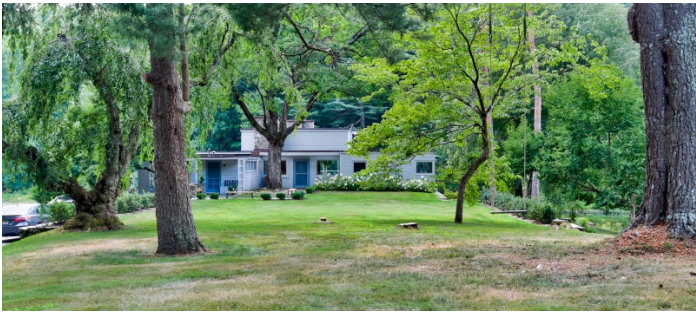

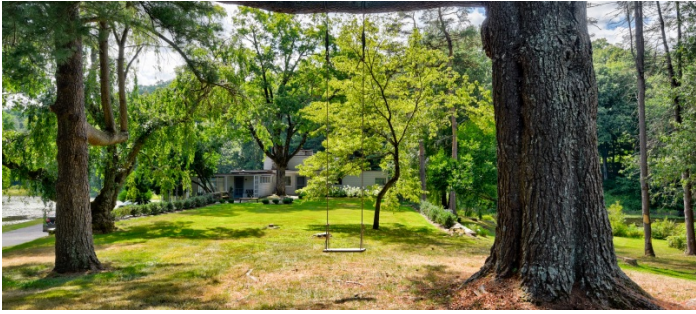

No nailing into walls. No painting of walls.
