

1050

Chelsea, Manhattan

LOCATION

New York, NY 10011

SPECS

5,664 sq ft

TAGS

Bedroom, Bohemian, Colorful, Eclectic Quirky, Kitchen, * In the Zone, Apartment, Event Space, Loft Library Room, Living Room, Modern Contemporary, Traditional, Walk-in Closet, Wood Floor

CATEGORIES

Notes

Set in a historic Chelsea factory building, this designer Manhattan loft spans 5,664 square feet. Every room is a careful, imaginative curation with distinct character. Each room is a work of art, from geometric grids in the ceiling, to mosaic tile in the bathroom, and wall-mounted fabric pieces in the bedrooms.

The library is a central feature, with both built-in and floating bookcases. An open kitchen adjoins with a lounging area room.

Naturally lit through beautiful steel-framed windows facing North, East and South, this loft combines an extraordinary number of uniquely designed rooms, including three bedrooms (two en suite), four full bathrooms, three living areas, a dining room, a reading room, a den, a kitchen and pantry, a 51-foot floor-to-ceiling library — all filled with exquisite art.

With beautiful views of the Empire State Building

